Unfortunately, for those of you who expressed an interest in the Tech Savvy courses, we have hit a hurdle. We will keep you informed as we look into other avenues to bring you the help you asked for.

Don't forget we are now on FaceBook and we welcome your feedback please. If you are not familiar with using FaceBook we can run some information sessions. Please let us know if you would like to know more about navigating, and staying safe, on FaceBook.

Our coffee mornings have been very successful so far. Ten people came along and enjoyed the get-together. Lots of interesting discussions on a variety of subjects, not just about computing. The next coffee date is next Wednesday, at 10.30 on the 8th of May an the Hummingbird Café and a reminder email sent just before the time so if you are free then and would like to come along for a coffee and a chat please let Phyl or myself know so we can book a large enough table.

Best wishes from your committee.

I know you do check your emails all the time but it is so easy to get caught.

PLEASE PLEASE PLEASE always read the address of ALL mail coming in to your inbox. Even if it looks like it is from a close relative or friend.

Just because your friend's name is on it doesn't mean it is from them. For example, this is one I received from a very close friend: Bill ??? <semunozxd2@hotmail.com> and if I hadn't read the rest of the incoming address I would have opened it.

I know that some of you have received emails supposedly from me recently too, exactly like that. I can't stress enough, please keep yourselves safe and READ EVERYTHING before you open it. If in doubt, delete it and stay safe.
